SOME OF YOU WITH longer memories than others may recall that we mentioned some time ago that we would be happy to receive suggestions for naming the attractive little park at Campbell and Harrison avenues.

This miniscule park around the two stately walnut trees is actually this city's only true landmark. (Name something else, if you can.)

We have long maintained that it was ridiculous and short-sighted to continue calling that arboretum at the railroad tracks "Harrison Park".

The name "Harrison" comes from the street and not from actual people. That's not quite right. We suppose Harrison Ave. was originally named for a person, although we don't know which Harrison...There are a number of people by that name around...

For example, Bill Harrison, is a long-time Campbell resident and for years has been active in local real estate circles...Then there is Bob Harrison, (no relation to Bill) manager of the IBM card plant in Campbell and member of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

(Incidentally at one time we knew THREE Bill Harrisons in town.)

We counted seven Harrisons in the Campbell directory.

But we are straying from the point of issue.

WE MAY BE ALIENating the Harrisons we do know but we submit that this city ought to be able to pick a more appropriate name for that little walnut tree park than "Harrison".

Some of you may recall that we advocated that the city-owned mini-park at Alice Ave. and Winchester Blvd. be named the "Joseph V. Gomes Park" instead of the prosaic "Alice Ave. Park" which it had been known by.

The City Council agreed with us and thus for the first time in this city's history a park in town was officially named after an individual.

WE HAVE LONG BEEN convinced that parks SHOULD BE named after people.

In our opinion everything seems to be too impersonal today. When a small city like Campbell has an opportunity to honor a civic leader as in the case of Joseph V. Gomes, we think it should be done.

We have always detested the so-called "policy" that is in existence in both the Campbell elementary and high school districts that specifies that schools should be named after streets.

Of course, such a policy avoids controversies and could possibly eliminate a few heated personal feuds that could possibly arise over what name should be given a school.

But we have long maintained that naming schools after streets is sort of a cowardly or chicken way to fly.

Having a definite "policy" on the matter is sort of silly in our way of thinking anyway. In our opinion, such things should be played by ear. If the proper situation arises, a school or park should be named after a person without making a federal case out of it.

So why have a fixed policy?

We believe, for example, that the Campbell elementary school board should have renamed the San Tomas School after the late Jack Fischer, long-time principal of that school.

But that's past history.

The board saw fit not to change the district's policy, so it is still the San Tomas School.

But again we are straying.

Royer heads CofC

Neal Royer, who came to Campbell as a teacher in 1948 and who last month received a second-year four year contract as superintendent of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, is the new president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce.

The new officers were elected this morning at the C of C board meeting.

Royer, who served as CofC first vice-president last year, succeeds Ken Mantle of New York Life as president. The official "take-over" took place this morning (Wed.) at the directors meeting. Mantle will serve as an ex-officio director for the next year.

Don Kennedy, was elected first vice-president and Bob Bullard, a CPA who has served as treasurer for the past two years, was "elevated" to second vice-president, Bob Blonder, manager of the First Valley Bank, was elected treasurer.

Kennedy and Bullard were reelected to new two-year terms as directors in December while Blonder was voted as a director for the first time. Other directors named by ballot in December were Jerry Arca, of Pacific Telephone; Al La Plante of New York Life; Norman Paul of Plaza Theatre (reelected); Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of the beautification committee and civic leader and Bill Oltmann, public accountant, who has served previously as a director.

Hold-over directors include, Royer; Earl Nichols, of Campbell Drugs; Bob Harrison, of IBM; Bill Hedley, architect; Bill Deal, of West Valley College. The board this morning also was scheduled to verify the appointment of four at-large directors for one-year terms.

City employees get pay boost

Campbell city councilmen last week wrapped up a $1 million annual salary package for city employees without a dissenting vote, granting each employee at least a 7.5% increase in pay over last year.

The "package" submitted to the council was the result of hours of negotiation between the employee group, headed by Dave Valkenaar, president of the association, and City Manager Bob Stephens, representing "management".

KIWANIAN PRESIDENT---Frank Kukuk, (above) of 236 N. Third St., and an official of the Campbell Water Co. will be installed as the 44th president of the Campbell Kiwanis Club on Thursday, Jan. 9, at a dinner at the Los Gatos Elks Club. Kukuk, long active in civic affairs, is vice-chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission on which he is serving his second term.

Lowell Benson, past lieutenant governor for the Kiwanians Club will be the installing officer. Benson served as president of the local club in 1949. The club was formed here in 1926.

Included in the voluminous report to the City Council were comparative salary tables of other cities; the pay in each of the five steps in the salary schedules; personnel rules and regulations; and the basis for the recommendations, etc.

Topping the list of city employees in the salary schedule is City Manager Stephens, who in February marks his fifth anniversary as city manager.

Because of low reserves in 1967, Stephens salary last year was raised only 5% from $1500 to $1585 per month. The City Council last Thursday hiked Stephens salary to $1765 per month ($21,180 per year) which amounts to a 12% raise.

City Clerk Dorothy Trevethan, who had only received a 4.4% hike in pay in 1967 from $850 to $885 was jumped to $975 for this year or a 10.2% increase.

Other top city "brass" salaries and increases included:

Bill Wren, public works director to $1415 per month, ($16,980 annual) from $1275 per month last year and $999 the year previous. (11.0%)

Fire Chief George Maxwell to $1400 per month ($16,800 annual) from $1250 per month last year and $1142 the year before. (12%)

Police Chief John Morgan to $1400 per month ($16,800

White Oaks Road problem goes to Council Monday

City officials are hoping that residents on the south end of White Oaks Road who have asked to have that street closed and owners of industrial firms on the north end of the street who want it open may reach some sort of an agreement before the City Council meeting next Monday, Jan. 13.

City personnel are scheduled to meet with the parties concerned before the council meeting to determine, if there is some solution to the problem.

City people are asking that action on the problem be deferred until an overall plan for the entire area can be developed.

Another matter on the council's agenda next Monday is the rezoning application of Fred Sahadi for the property at Campbell and Bascom.

GOOD OLD DAYS

A diamond in the rough... or something like that.

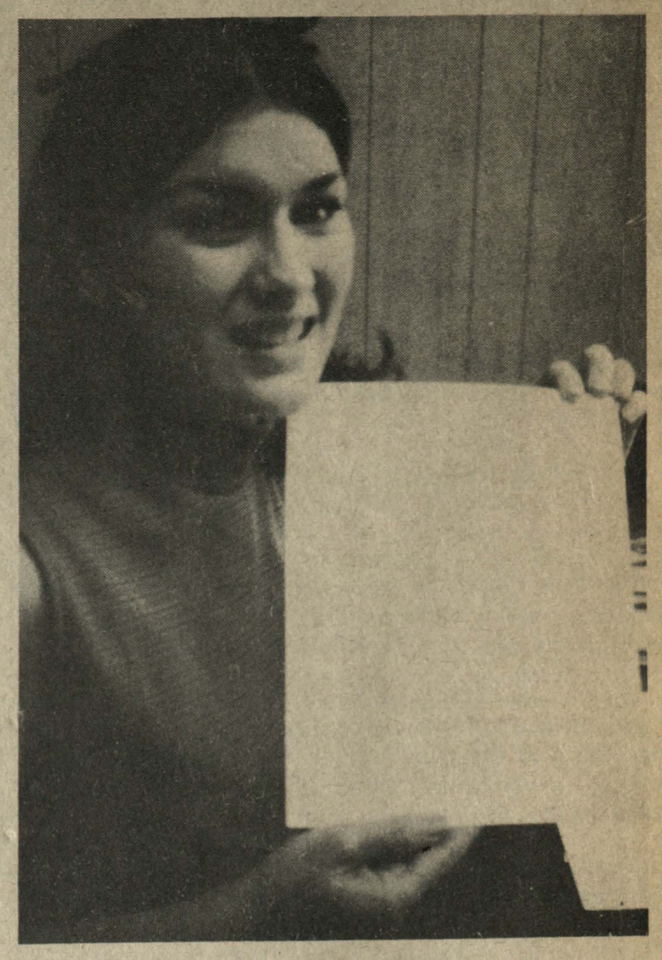
Anyway, next month The Campbell Press plans to present its "Diamond Jubilee Progress Edition".

It will be the fourth annual progress edition for The Press.

It will mark 75 years of existence of the paper in this community.

If any of you have any mementos of the "Gay 90" period, The Press would like to know about them.

Please call us.



OFF TO THE INAUGURATION--Janie Wong, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wong of Sunnyoaks Ave., displays the official invitation to the presidential inauguration which she received last week. Janie was elected to the position of Governor of California at the California Girls State and also Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Girls Nation in July.

Campbell's Janie Wong to go to inauguration

Two young people from Campbell, Janie Wong and Mason Sacks, and Robert Culp, Campbell High School principal, will be among the thousands watching the inauguration of Richard Milhous Nixon as president of the United States of America.

Janie Wong, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wong, 494 Sunnyoaks Ave., has received an official invitation from the chairman of the inaugural committee, J. Willard Marriott. The impressive looking document reads: The Inaugural Committee requests the honor of your presence to attend and participate in the Inauguration of Richard Milhous Nixon as president of the United States of America, on Monday, the twentieth of January, 1969 in the city of Washington.

Janie was elected to the position of Chief Justice of the United States during the 1968 Girl's Nation, held in Washington, D.C. in July. She is a senior at Campbell High School.

Janie and her family were surprised and delighted at the invitation, which arrived over a week ago. However, it wasn't until she found out that Mason Sacks, the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Rash of burglaries hits local businesses

Two suspects were booked into the Santa Clara County jail Tuesday on suspicion of being involved with the ring of burglars who over the weekend hit two more Campbell business establishments, the Winchester Hardware and the Campbell Floral Shop. They made off with safes in both cases with a total "take" of approximately $6,000 in cash and money orders.

Held in Las Vegas after they were apprehended with part of the money stolen from the Winchester Hardware, 2127 Winchester Blvd., were Eugene William McDonald, 25, 197 E. Rincon, and David Staples Peterson, 25, of San Jose.

The Winchester Hardware was broken into early Jan. 3 by burglars who pried off the roof ventilator and then lowered themselves into the store by a rope. Apparently they loaded the safe onto a handcart, and left by the back door.

The safe contained checks, cash and money orders. Las Vegas police were called into the case when the two suspects tried to change some of the cash into currency. The cash rolls bore the names of St. Lucy's Church, the Campbell High School, Campbell Billiards and other personal names. They also had a large supply of silver certificates, secured with a rubber band, which had been part of the loot described as stolen from the Winchester Hardware, according to Charles DeLa Roche, owner.

The two suspects waived extradition and were returned to Santa Clara County by Campbell police sergeants Ron Eddleman and George Wallace who flew to Las Vegas. Bail has been set at $1,250 each.

The second burglary occurred over the weekend at the Campbell Floral Shop, 76 E. Campbell Ave. The same "M.O." was used which could mean, according to the police, that a specialized ring of burglars was involved.

In the floral shop burglary the rear door of "The Miss-Fits", at 86 E. Campbell Ave., next to the Campbell Floral, was pried open. A hole was knocked in the wall of the store into the flower shop.

After entering the flower shop, owned by Tommy Blackmun, they removed the safe with its contents of cash, check and money orders. The handcart method was apparently used in hauling it outside.

The police believe the burglars secured the back door in order to gain more time between police inspections on the street.

On Monday evening the Lee Brothers Market, 1711 North Winchester Blvd. was robbed by a neatly dressed man who ordered the cashier to place bills from the cash register into a paper market bag.

The black-haired, medium height man, of about 30, was armed with a small automatic and commanded the cashier and a nearby customer who witnessed the robbery, to walk to the back of the store while he went out the front. A man of the same description had robbed the Northside Market, 551 N. Santa Cruz Ave., Los Gatos approximately 20 minutes before hitting the Camp-

Editorial

For the future

A full interchange is being proposed at Campbell Ave. and Highway 17 in order to serve downtown Campbell, the proposed "Prune Yard" development of Fred Sahadi (including an 18-story office building) and the residential area to the east.

Based on a "feasibility report" submitted to the City Council by the George S. Nolte Consulting Engineers, Inc., the City of Campbell will now request the State Highway Commission to approve the full interchange.

The engineering firm, located in Palo Alto, was employed by the City of Campbell to bolster this city's case.

The main hurdle to overcome is the Division of Highways policy which limits the frequency of freeway interchanges to one-mile intervals in urban areas.

In the case of the proposed full interchange at Campbell and 17, it would be approximately one-half mile south of the Hamilton Ave. interchange and one and one-quarter miles north of the Camden Ave. interchange.

The feasibility report includes an alternate proposal for a partial interchange that would serve movements to and from the north only via ramps.

But the consultants claim that the full interchange is a more practical solution. A partial interchange would be an incomplete service to the motoring public and this shortcoming would prove critical in future years when increased development occurs along the southerly portions of Highway 17.

The engineers also emphasize that, although there has been a policy of the state highway people to limit interchanges by distance between them, there have been many exceptions to that policy. Campbell's case thus would not be unprecedented.

The report points out that there are six interchanges within 2.1 miles on Route 85 and that two interchanges on Highway 17 (Coleman Ave. and The Alameda) are but .6 mile apart.

It is difficult for any layman not versed in traffic engineering lore or for any newspaper editor who is not blessed with engineering knowledge to pass judgment on the feasibility report of this prominent engineering consulting firm.

But there are a number of observations that this newspaper feels should be made.

The Press is convinced that some type of on and off ramp operation is essential at Highway 17 and Campbell Ave. as a possible means to improve traffic conditions and provide for future growth.

Our conviction is not based on the situation as it exists today but for the FUTURE.

Obviously to dump more traffic on the present day Campbell Ave. would compound a condition that would become almost unbearable.

That particular street in the downtown area is already overburdened.

Therefore it must be conceded that the proposed interchange will come into existence only when the so-called loop concept, i.e., streets on both sides of Campbell Ave., will be developed to carry the through traffic.

But there is even a far more important point that should and must be considered by all of us who are concerned with the development of this community.

We are convinced that the Fred Sahadi development at Campbell and Bascom avenues, an attractive Spanish-styled commercial center and the dramatic 18-story office building, will provide the impetus to the development of the entire area that even the most far-sighted individual may have difficulty in envisioning.

We maintain that the Sahadi project will have a far-reaching effect on the entire community.

It could provide the spark that will pick-up properties that have long lain dormant in the downtown and adjacent areas.

Coupled with the civic center project, which will get off the ground next year just north of Campbell Ave., in the downtown area, the Sahadi project could "remake", reshape and revitalize the downtown core..

No one will deny that the "downtown core" has long been in need of an inoculation of that type.

Vision, of course, is needed to provide the goal and it is important to move toward the set goal in definite steps.

We contend that we no longer can judge the future plans for the area from a penny-ante point of view or from what has happened in the past.

If those with the wherewithal to back up their "dreams" feel that an interchange at Campbell Ave. and Highway 17 is essential to the overall picture for the future, that is good enough for us.

Is there any other way to fly?

name for the so-called "Harrison Park" has been submitted to us.

Virginia Ciammiachella of the Campbell Costume Shop thought that the tiny park which was built by the Campbell JayCees should be called "Tom Thumb Park".

We concede that is better than designating the park after after a street. But we are sure you people can do even better. We are convinced that there are many who share our opinion about this "impersonal" naming bit.

A letter from Mrs. Laura F. Romer, a descendant of the original Campbell family, founders of the town, and who was largely responsible for getting the "Judge John Blaine Tree" at Campbell Park, is a case in point. She also makes a good case for naming the little park the "Ainsley Park".

But we'll share the letter with you:

"DEAR GEORGE:

"Naming schools and parks for community leaders is great!

"It might even help counteract the general drift toward de-humanization in modern life.'

"The little park around the walnut trees is of more than ordinary interest to me–a descendant of Benjamin Campbell. My eighty-eight year old aunt, Lena French, likes to recall how she and her sisters, Alda and Ethel, (they were all Swopes then), tended those trees when planted there!

"I am reminded that the Ainsley Packing Co. plant stood at that corner–the office shaded by these same trees. During the years before the depression Campbell's economic life revolved around the fruit industry, you know.

"Would the name "AINSLEY PARK" mean enough to present day citizens of the town?

"It has rather a pleasant sound, don't you think?

"Of course, the Ainsley family represented by the William Lloyds is still active in the affairs of the area.

"Joe Gomes and Bill Lloyd were together on the high school board, you may recall, and were old friends besides.

"Sorry to be so slow in responding to your appeal for ideas!

"Sincerely,
Laura F. Romer."

FRANKLY WE THINK naming the tiny park at the railroad tracks the "Ainsley Park" an excellent idea.

As you know, we are firmly convinced that it is important to have these links with the past.

That is one of the reasons we are looking forward with enthusiasm to our "DIAMOND JUBILEE PROGRESS EDITION" that will make its appearance next month.

This will mark the fourth annual progress edition of The Campbell Press and we sincerely hope it will surpass the other three.

And it should be better. How often can you celebrate one's 75th anniversary anyway?

The Press has been around a long time.

But those two walnut trees were fairly hefty even when the first Campbell Press (then known as "Campbell Weekly Visitor") made its appearance. The trees had been planted about five years before, according to best information we can gather.

Incidentally, on the front page of "Issue No. 1, Volume 1" that is hanging on the wall of our office, there is a picture of J. C. Ainsley's Cannery", which appears even weather-beaten then. (1895)

And Campbell had been in existence for some time before the first newspaper made its appearance. In fact a post office known as "Campbell station" had been located in the Benjamin Campbell residence in 1885.

Incidentally on the front page of "Vol. 1, No. 1," of the Campbell Weekly Visitor, the editor editorialized thusly:

"Some one has proposed to change the name of Campbell. Might as well talk of changing the name of America. Campbell has come to stay."

Remember that was in 1895.

BEFORE WE GET CARried away too much, it is only fair to mention that there are some who neither lean toward streets nor persons in naming parks.

One suggestion made was "DOS NUEZ". That translated means "two walnuts". Supposedly.

Campbell police were also investigating the report that a Campbell beautician was forcibly held at gun point late Thursday evening after leaving the place of business. Eddie Sacks, 1509 Eden Ave. was also going, that they even dreamed of Janie being able to attend the affair. When they found that Robert Culp, Campbell high school principal was also attending, with Mason, that the family went into high gear and made arrangements for Janie to fly back with Culp and Mason.

Mason is going as a guest of Purity Stores, as a result of having been one of the winners of an essay contest sponsored by the Purity Stores last April on the subject, "My Favorite President". Mason was one of three winners from Northern California, having written his essay on Woodrow Wilson.

The prize, an all expense paid trip to Washington, D.C. for the inauguration, included a similar trip for the teacher who submitted the student essay to the contest. In this case, Mrs. Virginia Samsom is no longer with the Campbell High School, and Mason asked Culp to go with him.

Mason graduated from Campbell High last year with honors, and is now attending Stanford University.

Janie will be staying with a friend of the family, Juanita Royal, who lived in Los Gatos before moving to Washington, D.C. where she is employed as a secretary.

The trio will leave Thursday, Jan. 16 and return Tuesday, Jan. 21 following the inauguration.

Mason and Culp will be given a tour of Washington, D.C. and the surrounding country while back east, as part of the contest tour.

Wally Byron, building official, to $1160 per month ($13,920 annual) from $1025 per month last year and $951 the year before. (13%)

The raises will cost the city $53,100 or approximately $11,000 more than was budgeted as a salary reserve last August, according to Stephens. Next Monday the transfer of necessary funds will be made by the City Council, as the increases are retroactive to Jan. 1.

Since Jan. 1, 1966, the city has followed the policy of setting the classification and pay plan on the calendar year basis rather than fiscal when the budget is adopted.

Extending the time to Jan. allows time for study and research that is not possible when putting the budget together in July, Stephens maintains. However, it is necessary to estimate the necessary funds that will be needed to pay the raises.

In addition to the hike in pay given the employees, the city also picks up the entire tab for hospitalization and medical expenses. The city also has reduced the fire department work week from 63 to 60 hours.

In addition to the average 7.5% increase in pay that the employees will receive, a number of other salary adjustments were made in the council's action last week.

Some employees were placed in "management" classes because of their duties. These include the assistant to the city manager (Carl Kuhn); Fire Marshal Gene Borden; Kenneth Hickman, superintendent of public works and Don Burr and Larry Kelly, police captains.

The salary scale for the police captains took the biggest jump in their monthly stipends. The monthly scale last year for police captains was $863-1049. For the next year the scale is $999-1214.

NEW POLICE OFFICER---John D. Morgan, Campbell police chief, right, explains departmental policy to Rex H. Noyer who was appointed to the position of police officer Jan. 1, 1969.

Officer Noyer, 22, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noyer, 2810 Rustic Ave. A native of San Jose, he was graduated from Camden High School in 1964. He is presently completing his studies at West Valley College and will receive an AA degree in police science. The appointment of Officer Noyer brings the Campbell police department to 30, including four women.

MATERIAL FOR THE BLIND---Mrs. Lillian Edwards is surrounded by the material which she transcribes for the blind. In front is the IBM Braille typewriter, to the right is the lesson material she is transcribing, and in the typewriter and to the back right are sheets of the heavy paper on which she imprints the Braille dots. The typewriter is a wonderful fast aid in transcribing, in that each letter individually impresses the dots. On the older model Braille typewriter she had to press six levers in order to form one letter, as the Braille alphabet consists of six dots to a letter. Several characters also constitute whole words. The work table has been specially constructed for Mrs. Edwards, a paraplegic, and allows her to get her wheel chair -- which is fully extended with her feet out in front -- under the table.

Mrs. Edwards overcomes handicap to aid blind students

Mrs. Lillian Edwards, physically may not be able to leave her wheel chair, in her home at 507 Rincon Ave., but her mail brings letters, tapes and gifts from such far away places as India and Africa, England, Greece, Switzerland and Hong Kong and many, many letters from all over the United States.

Mrs. Edwards is a paraplegic who has been confined to her wheel chair since the age of 19 when her spinal cord was severed as the result of being thrown from a horse. Through her church, the Church of Christ at 1075 W. Campbell Ave., she has become associated with the work of transcribing religious material for the blind.

Her home has been transformed into a workshop, complete with an IBM Braille typewriter, a tape recorder and special boxes which are used for sending the tapes across the country. This equipment was bought through contributions to the church. She also has a smaller Braille typewriter which is used by the blind to transcribe their own work.

Mrs. Edwards is not compensated materially for her work. It often takes as much as six hours at a time to transcribe one study course, entitled "Basic Bible Studies", which are sent out through the Church of Christ free of charge to the blind students needing and requesting the material.

Her interest in the work started nine years ago when a blind preacher in the church needed help in transcribing his material. Mrs. Edwards taught herself how to use the Braille transcriber, and in 1963 started offering the material to the public. She now handles two correspondence courses for the blind who are studying the Bible, and with the help of a blind proofreader in Pharis, Texas, she sends tapes back and forth concerning the material.

The Braille typewriter is unique in itself, in that it has a conventional keyboard, which at the same time imprints on heavy parchment-like paper, the raised Braille letters which are used by the blind to read. These sheets, which are larger than regular paper, are then sent to the proofreader, and he "reads" the material, making notes on the tape as to the corrections needed. He then sends the material back to Mrs. Edwards, where she is able to correct it by a simple process of literally erasing the dots, and making a new impression.

The original copies are then duplicated in a plastic material at the church office by Curtis Acord, another church member, in as many copies of the particular lesson that are needed, and then sent off around the world. Material for the blind is sent free of charge by the post office

Mrs. Edwards is herself a story, having married and had a daughter since she was handicapped 34 years ago. Her husband, Charles, has only one leg, having lost a leg many years ago, but is employed and works every day at Permanente. The Rincon Ave. home has a ramp at the front doorway instead of stairs, enabling Mrs. Edwards to leave her home to attend church and other activities.

Her home was constructed with her handicap in mind and the wide hallway enables her to swing the wheelchair about, as she does very adeptly. In her spotless kitchen there are no overhead cupboards, everything being built to a level where she can reach the work space and storage units. An electric stove eliminates fire danger, and Mrs. Edwards ably demonstrated that should she drop something on the floor, she is able to pick it up.

A special table has been built for the Braille typewriter which allows Mrs. Edwards to skillfully steer her wheelchair under the table so that she can get close enough to the typewriter to work.

So, although Mrs. Edwards is handicapped, she has used her talents and time to help others who are handicapped in other ways, and in so doing has proved that a handicap is only something to overcome.

Ronald Strong claims Sue Wagner as bride

MR. AND MRS. RONALD STRONG

Sue Wagner wore a full length Empire styled satin gown with long pointed sleeves and a scooped neckline when she walked down the aisle of the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd recently to meet her bridegroom Ronald D. Strong.

An attached circular train all with lace applique completed her ensemble, and she carried a bouquet of white pom poms and white rosebuds. A tiered silk illusion veil was held in place by a circlet of flowers.

Floor length purple gowns were worn by the brides' attendants who carried identical bouquets of pink and white nosegay pom poms. Miss Gay Findlay of Sacramento preceded the bride as maid of honor with Mrs. Sheri Thurston and Miss Vonda Strong as bridesmaids.

Miss Wagner, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo W. Wagner of 130 Fulton Street, was given in marriage by her father. The double ring ceremony was read by Pastor P. Carlson.

Mrs. Wagner chose a pale blue brocade coat dress with matching accessories for her daughters wedding, complementing her ensemble with a white rosebud corsage.

The new Mrs. Strong was graduated from Westmont High School and San Jose City College and is employed as a dental assistant in San Jose.

Ronald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Strong of 150 Alice Ave. A graduate of Campbell High School, he attended West Valley College before enlisting in the United States Air Force.

His brother, Jerry Strong, served as best man, with Gary Robinson and James Taylor ushering the guests to their seats.

For the wedding Mrs. Strong chose a beige underdress with a dark brown lace overdress with beige and cocoa accessories. Her ensemble was set off by a white rosebud corsage.

Following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor where the young couple cut the lovely three-tiered wedding cake.

For the wedding trip to Lake Tahoe the new Mrs. Strong chose a white double-breasted dress, a hot pink coat and charcoal grey accessories. The newly-weds are presently making their home in Campbell.

New Campbell family arrives from Illinois

New arrivals to Campbell are Mr. and Mrs. James Erkman and family, who are now making their home at 3758 Delgado Court.

Since their arrival here from Park Forest, Ill., the Erkmans have been busy getting acquainted in their new home and are looking forward to the arrival in February of James, 21, an Airman First Class in the Air Force who has been stationed in Thailand.

Their daughter Emily, 14, is a freshman at Campbell High School and is already a member of the debating team and the glee club. Susan, 12, attends Campbell Elementary School where she is a member of the band and choir, and David, 7, attends Hazelwood School.

Erkman is associated with the new Key Chevrolet Company in Cupertino as truck, lease and fleet manager. Active in the Republican party, Erkman is also a member of the Elks Club and a new member of the Campbell Kiwanis Club. The family has already joined the Congregational Church of Campbell, and are looking forward to enjoying the California sports and camping.

As I View It

By John W. Gilbaugh

Battle lines are forming for an academic war, about to erupt, between the Board of State College Trustees and the militant state college faculties to determine who shall control this segment of California's system of higher education. The outcome of the contest will not only affect every California citizen, but it may tend to set a pattern for control of public, tax-supported colleges and universities throughout the nation. The target of the faculties' wrath is Dr. Glenn S. Dumke, Chancellor of the System's 19 state colleges, whose resignation the faculties are demanding.

It has been inevitable that the state college senates, created by the Trustees, would eventually turn on their chief architect, who is the Chancellor, himself. Since 1961, when the Donohoe Act For Higher Education was passed by the California State Legislature, the Trustees have given the professors a relatively free hand in personnel matters. While they must have believed that the faculties would exercise good judgment and demonstrate proper restraint, quite the opposite has been true. Those department heads, deans, and college presidents who attempted to impede the faculties progress in their surge for power were soon sacked - with the Chancellor's approval.

Now, the Chancellor's number has come up. But, his attitude toward faculty review and removal of administrators, when applied to himself, has become quite a different matter. In response to the faculty demand that he resign, he has served notice that he is responsible solely to the State College Trustees.

Under pressure from irate citizens and concerned members of the State Legislature who protested pornographic art exhibited last May at Long Beach and Fresno State Colleges, the Chancellor departed abruptly from his long-held philosophy which espoused the right of the faculties to manage their own affairs, by cancelling the campus art exhibit. Several state college senates retaliated by focusing their wrath on the Chancellor, to whom, more than any other individual, they were indebted for their existence.

The faculty lust for power evidenced by the Academic Senate of the California State Colleges, in seeking Dumke's resignation, has spread like wildfire to individual campuses. A systemwide referendum on the subject will be conducted during the week of January 6th through 10th. The question to which the faculties shall be asked to respond is: "Do you support the action of the Academic Senate of the California State Colleges of May 24, 1968, in which the Senate expressed its lack of confidence in Chancellor Glenn S. Dumke and further requested him to resign?"

The Trustees are confronted with a dilemma. If they remove the Chancellor, they will have surrendered to the faculty, granting greater power to the faculties, and creating an atmosphere in which a successor to Dumke could not survive. To yield to the faculties, would, indeed, be tantamount to extinguishing the fire by use of standard fire-fighting equipment, but using gasoline instead of water to douse the flames.

Yet, if the faculties do not support the Senate's action, such a vote should not be construed as support for the Chancellor. It would much more likely represent a protest against the radical, activist membership of the Senates throughout the system.

To reassert their own, responsible authority, the Trustees may have to perform radical surgery on the academic tree. In so doing, some pruning of the administrative limbs may be essential. But it is most important that the severely diseased branches, the academic senates, not be overlooked.

With the teaching faculties in control of the several state colleges, applying a system of management with the lines of authority nearly non-existent, it is virtually impossible to fix responsibility. Instead of being able to identify the source of good or bad decisions with an individual charged with responsibility, we now have a consensus of anonymous committees. Consequently, when some faculty activities lead to immoral results, we can find no responsible individual to blame.

So, the people of California will be watching for the outcome of the faculty referendum of Jan. 6th through 10th. And, there will be considerable interest among members of the state legislature with regard to the manner in which the Trustees attempt to repulse the faculty power grab.

In the event that neither the Trustees, nor the State Legislature come forth with a reasonable solution, the California electorate may have to settle the academic conflict by conducting their own referendum.

PG&E requests natural gas rate increase

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is seeking permission to increase its natural gas rates, the first such increase in eight years. There have been several gas rate reductions in that period, according to P.G.&E. officials.

If authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission, the total increase would average less than four cents a day for the nearly two million P.G.&E. residential customers in northern and central California.

Citing increased costs in the price of gas delivered by its principal supplier, higher Federal income taxes, higher interest rates and other costs of doing business, the utility requested an annual boost of $37,110,000 which would come in two steps.

The first step, to be effective in March, would be a $13,738,000 offset increase resulting from higher charges to P.G.&E. by El Paso Natural Gas Company, scheduled for March 7, 1969, and from payments after that date of the 10 percent Federal tax surcharge imposed earlier this year. El Paso supplies 44 percent of P.G.&E.'s gas needs. The remainder comes from Canadian and California producers.

The second phase was requested to permit P.G.&E. to meet other increases such as record high bond interest and material and labor costs, and to earn a 7.5 percent rate of return, which P.G.&E. believes is reasonable under present day conditions. The company explained that its labor costs have increased 42 percent since the last gas rate increase.

The company also expects that companies engaged in transporting natural gas from fields in Canada to P.G.&E. will seek higher rates of return in 1969, which will increase the cost of gas from that source.

P.G.&E. has reduced both its gas and electric rates several times in the last five years for a combined average annual saving of over $40 million, based on current sales. Of this amount, $13 million was for gas rate reductions and $27 million for electric rate cuts. Recent, more rapid inflationary cost increases now make it necessary to seek higher gas rates.

P.G.&E. pointed out that the proposed El Paso increase will add $11,717,000 to its costs in 1969.

The company noted that it has spent $400 million for new gas facilities since 1960 and it estimates that another third of a billion dollars will be needed for new gas facilities in the next five years.

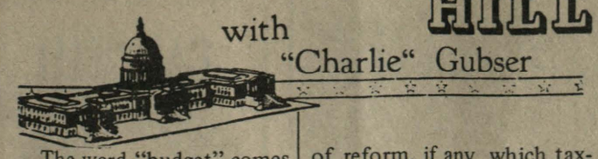
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



The word "budget" comes from the French word "bougette"–meaning a small bag, which, facetiously speaking, is what the taxpayer is usually left holding.

Next year, with a new administration, there will certainly be an effort to reform our tax structure, but requirements of the federal "bougette" will limit the amount of reform, if any, which taxpayers can expect. Ever since the income tax became the federal government's principal source of revenue, this has been the case.

For a long time the federal government didn't need the income tax so it was an on-again off-again situation. But in the famous 1895 case of Pollock vs. Farmers Loan and Trust Co. the Supreme Court ruled that a federal income tax was unconstitutional.

After the Court's decision, the requirements of the federal treasury started a move to legalize an income tax by constitutional amendment. Presidents Teddy Roosevelt and Taft reluctantly recommended it to avoid more drastic taxation threatened by Congress. Finally in 1909 the Senate passed the constitutional amendment resolution by a vote of 77-0 and the House approved it by a vote of 318-4. When 42 states ratified the amendment by early 1913 the 16th Amendment legalizing an income tax became part of our Constitution.

The 16th Amendment is still controversial and down through the years, lawmakers and administrators have been bluntly reminded of Chief Justice John Marshall's classic comment: "The power to tax is the power to destroy." Approximately twenty state legislatures have adopted resolutions since 1939 urging Congress to initiate another constitutional amendment limiting individual and corporate tax rates to 25% of taxable income.

The outlook for such an amendment is not good. But it's backers still hope to put some kind of ceiling on the constantly rising rate of taxation. And history makes a point for them! From 1913 to 1916 the tax rate was only 1%. Married couples enjoyed a $4,000 exemption and a single person didn't pay on his first $3,000 of income. The maximum rate was 6% on $50,000 or more. With the requirements of World War I, the rate on income above $4,000 jumped from 1% to 6% in 1918.

After World War II income taxes really began to escalate. Personal exemptions were gradually reduced to the present $1,200 for married couples and $600 for a single person. Even in the lowest bracket the normal tax rate has gone up to 20%. Corporations currently pay a total of 22% normal tax plus a 26% surtax on income. Tax rates have been briefly lowered on rare occasions depending upon the economics and the politics of the moment. For example, during President Kennedy's administration we saw the biggest income tax rate reduction in history which was cancelled by President Johnson's recent request for a 10% surcharge. But despite fluctuations the trend has always been upward in response to the demands of the people for federal spending which finds its way into the federal budget.

So, the French word "bougette" is most descriptive–the budget truly is a bag–but no longer a little bag.

Campbell Little League plans first meet

The Campbell Little League will hold the first meeting of the 1969 season on Thursday, Jan. 9 at the Rosemary Field house on West Hamilton Ave. Starting at 8 p.m. the members will go over the schedules and plans for the new season.

All men interested in Little League play and activities are welcome to attend, according to Joe McGrody, vice president. He can be reached at 378-9256 for further information.

At Santa Cruz campus

Six Campbell students have returned to their studies at the University of California, Santa Cruz campus.

Carol Agate, Lawrence Brown, Theresa Guerra, Peggy Lantz, George Masciarelli and Michele Wilkie are among the 1,096 new students enrolled in the Santa Cruz campus.

The Campbell students were home over the holidays, returning to the campus Monday, Jan. 6.

Growing at the rate of a college a year, UC, Santa Cruz, which opened in the fall of 1965, now has four semi-autonomous college communities on its 2,000 acre campus. Sometime in the late 1990's, there will be 28 such college complexes and a projected total enrollment of 27,500 students: 16,500 undergraduates and 11,000 graduates.

The total UCSC enrollment is currently 2,602 graduates and undergraduates.

A portion of the former Cowell Ranch, UCSC is ideally sited on forest and meadow lands overlooking Monterey Bay.

The public is cordially invited to visit the campus at any time. Student-guided tours can be arranged during the academic year through the UCSC Visitor Information Center, (408) 429-2788.

SPORTS FANS!
I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

By AI Salciccia

Do you have any idea who was the biggest man ever to play pro football? . . . Answer is Les Bingaman who played for the Detroit Lions from 1948 through 1954 . . . He set the pro football record in 1954 when he weigher in at 349 pounds.

Here's a football oddity . . . There are 5-yard penalties in football and there are 15-yard penalties - - but, oddly enough, there are no 10-yard penalties . . . And, nobody has ever come up with a good reason why there aren't any 10-yard penalties in football.

Ever wonder where the tradition started of having a band at football games. . . It was at Notre Dame, which was the first college in America to have a band. . . Their band first marched at a football game in 1888. . . They realy started something, didn't they?

Appeals go to residents for MOD via mail

A four-year-old boy who is a picture of health has been named theme boy for the January March of Dimes, which started with a mail appeal for financial support of the fight against birth defects.

Stephen Stringall, 4, of Sunnyvale is the theme boy, appropriately chosen for this year's March of Dimes, the goal of which is "A Happier New Year" for every child beginning life.

Each year a quarter million birth defective babies are born in the United States. The National Foundation, the national voluntary health organization supported by The March of Dimes, has as its aim the discovery of causes of these many defects and development of cures and preventive measures.

"The research involved takes millions of dollars," according to Don Kennedy, Campbell chairman for the 1969 MoD. "But it will be worth it, if we can appreciably cut down on the number of defective babies.

"All babies should have a chance to be just as healthy as Stephen Stringall."

Stephen has a brother who was born with birth defects, so his parents are especially appreciative of the four-year-old theme boy's good health. Mrs. Stringall is secretary of the county chapter of The National Foundation-March of Dimes, and her husband helps wherever possible.

He supervises research and development on high power tubes at the Stanford Linear Accelerator and she is a commercial artist who is now devoting full time to being wife and mother. Both are alumnae of San Jose State College.

National Guard on weekend tour

Some 800 men including several Campbell men, of the California Army National Guard will leave this Friday for weekend training at Fort Ord.

The Second Battalion 159th Infantry, 49th Infantry Brigade, which is headquartered at San Jose will depart for Fort Ord Friday evening. After arriving at Fort Ord, campsites will be set up in the field as the men will sleep outside both nights.

The Second Battalion 159th Infantry commanded by Lt. Col. William J. Jefferds is composed of men primarily from the San Jose area.

Jackson Oaks to have view lots

Physical land development operations have commenced for Jackson Oaks, one of the major real estate projects in the county, according to Warren G. Haight, president of Oceanic Properties, subsidiary of Castle and Cooke, Ltd.

Jackson Oaks, situated adjacent to Lake Anderson in the foothills of the lower Diablo range, 23 miles from downtown San Jose, is to be a unique community of 670 residential homes on large-size view lots, according to Nelson S. Wright, director of the project.

Wright emphasizes that, for the first time in the history of Northern California, families of middle income can actually purchase large view sites adjacent to a 1400-acre wooded recreational area and lake, all within a major metropolitan area.

Jackson Oaks, located 3½ miles east of Highway 101, within the city limits of Morgan Hill, will emphasize a pastoral, park-like environment. Over 240 acres of the project will be dedicated to the perpetual ownership of the public, thus preserving its rustic and scenic features.

Scheduled for completion this spring is a community-owned recreation center complete with over 4,000 square feet of porches, sun decks and observation platforms, meeting rooms, dining rooms and indoor recreational areas.

The entire project is being operated by the Lake Anderson Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Oceanic Properties, developers of the Properties, developers of The Sea Ranch in Sonoma County of Northern California and other major properties in the Hawaiian Islands.

City planners okay apartments next to park

Planning Commission members on Monday night by 5-1 vote approved a site-plan for a 288-unit apartment complex to be located on the northeast corner of Budd Ave. and San Tomas Expressway with the stipulation that a "buffer zone" be established between the area and Rincon Park.

Involved in the approval was the question of a 1.25 acre parcel which is adjacent to the city-owned Rincon Park.

City staff has recommended that the 1.25 acre parcel be used for park purposes. The developers have indicated they are agreeable to such a plan, provided they have some control of the use.

A condition of approval of the site plan was the stipulation that the Parks and Recreation Commission be asked to recommend what should be done with the parcel. The commission meets tonight.

Commissioner Dale Scott cast the lone negative vote on the application. Scott complained that apartments along the expressway would be unattractive despite the attractive renderings presented by Paul O. Frechette.

Scott also felt that the development was infringing on the possible future expansion of the city park. But his "substitute" motion to refer the entire matter to the Parks and Recreation Commission failed to get a second.

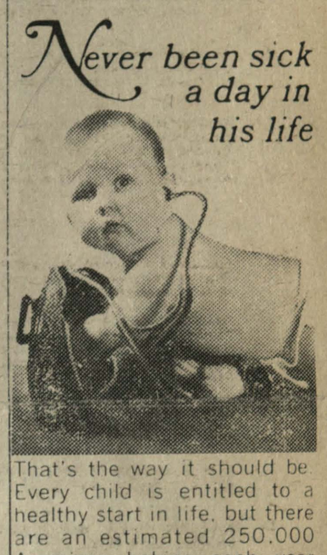
In another matter before the commission, approval was granted C. C. McKay and James Miller for a zone change from R-1 (single family) to R-3-S and R-2-S on property located at 159 Union Ave.

PROMOTED

Charles L. Curnutt, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Curnutt, 2250 Shamrock Dr., Campbell, was recently promoted to Army specialist four near Furth, Germany, where he is a tank crewman in Company A, 2nd Battalion of the 4th Armored Division's 37th Armor.

IN SCHOOL

Excluding those in institutions, three out of every five civilians in this country between the ages 5-34 are attending school.



That's the way it should be. Every child is entitled to a healthy start in life, but there are an estimated 250,000 American babies each year who are deprived of that right because of birth defects.

MDAA 1968 CAMPAIGN -- Fran Conrad, left, Muscular Dystrophy Association Campbell Area Chairman and Ronald B. Casriel, right, MDAA County Campaign Chairman, hold a giant check symbolic of the 1968 campaign goal of $46,000. Looking on and holding a counter coinboard is Becky Perry, 6, of Palo Alto, 1968 County Campaign Child. Funds raised in the drive help provide local patient service and research efforts to find a cure for the dread muscle malady. The picturesque setting is Interland Development's Lake Terrace Apartments in Santa Clara.

Conrad, a retired television and broadcasting executive, resides with his wife, Elinor, at 1111 Arnott Way, Campbell.

New dress shop caters to teen's mod fashions

Mrs. June Casey, who has just opened a new dress store called "The Miss-Fits", at 86 E. Campbell Ave., plans to specialize in the mod fashions for the college and high school age girls.

With three teen-age daughters at home, Mrs. Casey has plenty of advice to keep her headed in the right direction, and also lots of practical experience to back up her selection of drip drys, dacrons and other washable materials.

The daughters, Paula June, 17, and Sharon Lynn, 15, attend Campbell High School and Denise, 12, is a student at Castro Junior High.

Mrs. Casey, who worked for her brother-in-law, Bill Welch, in his TV store, "Al's TV" next door to the newly-opened dress shop, says this is her first try at owning her own store, but when the little shop became vacant she felt she had to try. Her husband, Fred, works for the Ford Motor company in Milpitas and the Casey family have made their home at the corner of Hamilton and Beck avenues for the last year.

"The Miss-Fits" was entered over the weekend by burglars who knocked a hole in the wall of the establishment in order to enter the Campbell Floral Shop next door. Nothing was disturbed at the dress shop.

AFRO-AMERICAN HISTORY---Louis Taylor, Jr., 46, of Palo Alto, (left) who has been named by the Board of Trustees of West Valley College to teach a class in "Afro-American History" in the Spring Semester, chats with Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, following his appointment. Taylor is currently employed in the county probation office. He is a graduate of West Virginia State College with a master's degree from Wayne State University, Detroit.

He is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force and has taught previously at San Mateo and Foothill colleges.

Flu keeps local druggists busy

Campbell's populace has joined the rest of the nation on the flu list, if drug store sales and hospital admissions are any indication.

Allan Blaine, of Aero Pharmacy reports he has been "busier'n heck". He also noted that he'd been "experiencing some difficulty in obtaining ingredients" for prescriptions since they are being used nationwide and the manufacturers had been unable to keep pace with the demand.

These were the antibiotic type prescriptions and cough syrups, both over-the-counter and prescribed. He estimates that he has had a 20% to 30% increase in such medicines during the past few weeks.

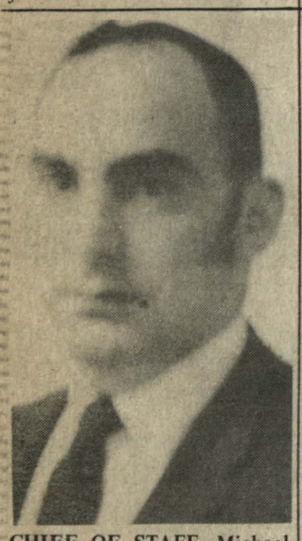
Campbell Drug Pharmacist Earl Nichols said that cough syrups were in short supply and many of the doctors were working around the kinds available. Supplies were catching up this week, but around the first of the month demands were heavy.

"In fact", NIchols reported, "I've never seen so much cough syrup sold over the counter".

Other local pharmacies indicated that the same pattern was in effect in their establishments.

Campbell Community Hospital is nearly filled this week, according to Elton Admire, administrator. Many newly admitted patients are victims of the flu, but fortunately, hospital personnel have remained in good health.

Nurses and key personnel were inoculated two weeks ago.



CHIEF OF STAFF---Michael S. Cahn, M.D., has been named Chief of the Medical Staff of Campbell Community Hospital for 1969. A resident of San Jose, he has been practicing in Campbell since 1963. He attended Franklin and Marshall in Lancaster, Pa., interned at Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia and served his residency at the Veterans Administration Hospital in that city. He is married and the father of three children. He practices internal medicine and cardiology.
